

HAVE you ever stopped to think that the beer drinking nations—England, America and Germany, are the happiest and least given to vice? And don't you know that the whiskey and wine drinking nations are morally degenerate, vicious and lowest in the world's regard? Isn't there a wonderful sermon in this for some temperance orator of breadth and depth, who deals with conditions rather than theory?

SURVEY OF NEW LINE COMPLETED

INDICATIONS ARE THAT WORK ON RAILROAD TO KEY WEST WILL BEGIN SOON.

Unless indications belie the fact there will be something doing very shortly in the building of the proposed extension of the Florida East Coast Railway from the mainland across and via the keys to Key West.

Some time past reports from the keys were to the effect that the survey work was about finished, but as information covering this venture is very difficult to obtain, but little other than that fact, could be announced, and although it is now known that the survey work has been completed there is still nothing authentic about the progress of the work, though the "Outside Board" which knows everything, and usually has it pretty correct, states that the work of building is on the verge of commencement.

Yesterday afternoon the houseboat known as No. 1, and which has been accommodating the surveying party under Engineer Dusenbury, and which ended up its work at Key West, with Mr. Dusenbury and party aboard, was towed into port, this morning the launch Lucie, Captain Walter Ridlow, which has been engaged as a tender to those crafts and parties, came in towing the party of engineers under Mr. Haskell aboard the houseboat, Cruiser.

Both parties were landed at the terminal dock and there was immediate activity in stripping them of surplus stores, etc., thus showing that their work is at an end.

The engineers in charge of this work are very reticent, and nothing of their work or the intentions of the company relative to the next step in the building of this unique, and at the same time, great engineering feat, could be learned, except that the survey work is over and that the other three parties of engineers will arrive here inside the next week—Miami Metropolis.

The Florsheim SHOE

GOOD SHOES

That's an ordinary subject—but few men realize the force of its meaning.

The vast assortment of different shapes and makes are confusing in their variety.

Foot-form lasts, perfect materials, style, comfort and service.

These are the inducements in the "FLORSHEIM" which make shoe buying more than a mere matter of form.

Those points of excellence so noticeable in custom made footwear distinguish the "FLORSHEIM" among shoes.

WATERWAYS OF GREAT VALUE

OPENING OF CANAL AT MIAMI MARKS IMPORTANT STEPS IN PROGRESS OF LAND OF FLOWERS.

The opening of the canal across the peninsula at Miami marks another important step in the projected improvements to the inland waterways of Florida, says the Daytona Gazette-News. Congress has appropriated $200,000 for the improvement of Indian river near Jupiter and Sebastian inlets and the East Coast Canal Company are hastening the completion of the canal which will connect the Halifax and Manzanillas rivers. Gov. Broward will undoubtedly strongly urge the draining of the Everglades and the opening up of canals in the interior of the state to connect the various lakes and waterways, thus opening up for settlement vast tracts of rich and fertile lands for the homeseeker.

Situated as Florida is, between the gulf and the great Atlantic, where balmy breezes blow from shore to shore, she is destined in time to become one of the great states of the Union, if the trend of development is not hampered, and will be an ideal habitation for mankind. And this is particularly true of the East Coast which has, for the greater part of its extent, inland waterways, both on the east and west.

Miami to Jacksonville. The project of deepening and extending the links of waterways the entire distance from Miami to Jacksonville, which was talked of several years ago, is again receiving attention from engineers and men of means, and bona fide propositions with that end in view have been made.

The opening up of canals and deepening existing channels from Jacksonville to Miami would of necessity cost a large sum of money, but it would be repaid the citizens many times over in the resultant reduced freight rates, and by the increased number of people who would be attracted here on account of being able to utilize pleasure crafts of larger dimensions.

State is Prosperous. The pessimist calls attention to the freeze of a few years ago when the orange growers lost thousands of dollars, some even being bankrupt and ruined, and in his self assurance confidently predicts a similar catastrophe for the future. Yet the condition of the state and of its residents at large is far superior to a decade ago. Many millions of dollars more are invested here and even the old grower, who now has a diversity of crops, is better off. Towns and cities which were paralyzed by the effects of that freeze are being revived and the new growth promises to be harder and more stable than under the old conditions.

Land values on the East Coast are rapidly appreciating in value. The papers of a few days ago chronicle the sale of a tract at Hastings which had increased in value 150 per cent within four years. In the same space of time many pieces of property in this city have increased fully as much, and the same condition prevails in many sections of the state.

Florida has a glorious climate and here nature has scattered her blessings with a bountiful hand. If the editors and the people will only get together with that same old steady, strong pull, not for one locality but for all, the result would be for the betterment of all.

DOES SHOULD BE PROTECTED

UNLESS THEIR KILLING IS PROHIBITED—DEER WILL SOON BECOME EXTINCT IN FLORIDA.

The following communication to the Sarasota Times hits the nail square on the head and we commend the same to the attention of the legislature:

"The past season there has been killed from near Osprey to the Mink river, and down the peninsula to Cape Hays (a scope of country about 6 by 30 miles) 62 deer that I know of—I myself having killed five. Out of these 62 killed I think it would be safe in saying one half were does. Now, the point I wish to make is this: Would it not be wise to have a law to prevent the killing of does? Make it a heavy fine for any one to kill a doe at any time of the year. This would stop the killing of fawns, which is a waste of game. If this were a law in this country, in connection with the present law, I do not think it would be long before deer would become plentiful again."

"G. W. BLACKBURN." Time was when Florida forests abounded with deer, as well as other game, but by wanton and reckless slaughter they are now all but depleted. With the disappearance of the deer goes one of our chief attractions for many who spend a great deal of time and money within our borders. By all means stringent measures should be adopted to protect the deer, before they are entirely extinct in Florida, and Mr. Blackburn's suggestion is a most excellent one.
